DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Claims 16-34 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on 03/20/2009.

Applicant's election with traverse of group I with respect to claims 1-15 and 35 in the reply filed on 03/20/2009 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the preamble is similar and contains similar elements. This is not found persuasive because of the common technical features: an implant, deformable character, and a case. Leopold et al WO/98/27894 A1 "Leopold" discloses and anticipates the common technical features, as discussed below.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Objections

Claim 14 is objected to because of the following informalities: grammatical error: "the" should be inserted before "group". Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 3774

Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

It is unclear to the examiner what limitation is imposed by a chain stitch belonging to class 101 of standard NF G 05-002 of December 1982. Thus, the claim will be interpreted as requiring a chain stitch.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-14, and 35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Leopold et al WO/98/27894 A1 “Leopold”.

Leopold discloses an implant in a sheath (namely a restraining member; 102), whereby connected via sutures (122), threads (104), eyelets (116), and chain stitches (130). The tubular configuration (P23:L31) and flexible materials (P13:L25-30). See figures 1, 7a-c. The implant inherently placed in a sterile container or case. Leopold further discloses the addition of a coating (P21:L7). The “graduation” serves as an optical examination means and is broadly interpreted at the portion sticking up identified by element 100 below. The implant further comprises a “pouch” defining an internal volume, as apparent from the figure below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.

Art Unit: 3774

4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 15 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Leopold et al WO/98/27894 A1 "Leopold" as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Melvyn US 2003/0125812.

Leopold discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, Leopold is silent with respect to the implant being a mammary implant. Melvyn discloses a breast implant (P7:L2) with insertion sheath (P7:L3) further where the implant is placed into a container (P4:L3) to prepare an implant for surgery. Thus, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the implant of Leopold to a breast implant, as taught by Melvyn in order to provide protection to another implant during surgery.
